BANQUET A FEATURE OF COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

NUMBER OF TOASTS RESPONDED TO BY LOCAL TALENT—A THREE-COURSE DINNER.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Kirk T. Moore Compared Arizona's Past and Present.

Aside from the address given by Governor R. E. Sloan to the graduating class of the Union high school on Tuesday evening, the banquet was the next important feature of the evening. The dining room of the Alhambra was splendidly decorated with a very liberal amount of cut flowers and greenery. The tables, two in number, one of them extending the length of the room, while the other occupied a position in the wing of the main room. The menu included a three-course dinner served in an elaborate manner.

The guests of the evening were the governor, private secretary to the governor, Mrs. J. F. Cleveland, Professor and Mrs. A. B. Matthews and Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction Kirk T. Moore. Professor John D. Loper acted as toastmaster. The following toasts were responded to: "The Salt River Valley Bridge," E. W. Wilbur; "The Mesa Union High School," George W. Silverthorn; "Mesa as a Summer Resort," Rev. C. Sidney Maddox; "Education," Leroy C. Snow; "Past, Present and Future of the Salt River Valley," A. C. McQueen; "Highways of Arizona," Rev. A. L. Hawley; "Arizona," Governor R. E. Sloan; "The Ladies," J. F. Cleveland.

Those present at the banquet, other than the guests already mentioned, were: Mr. and Mrs. George Silverthorn, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Waring, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McQueen, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stilwell, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Drane, Jr., Rev. and Mrs. C. Sidney Maddox, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Stapley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Gibbons, Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Steward, Dr. and Mrs. R. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. William Newell, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bowen, the Misses Henrietta Irwin, Mamie Stilwell, Gertrude Hansen, Nora Smith, and Messrs. Cecil Drew, C. S. Van Antwerp, Donald McQueen, C. C. Manning and Vincent Jones.

The program rendered at the high school auditorium preceding the banquet was one of the best heard in Mesa for some time. The regular program was carried out, as previously announced, with the exception of an address by Kirk T. Moore, superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Moore's address had principally to do with the earlier period of education in the territory from which he was able to strike a dissimilarity with that of today. However, he paid a glowing tribute to the early pioneers of education in the territory. He pictured some of the obstacles overcome at the time of erection of the first public school building at Tucson, when the timber was hauled from old Fort Grant, a distance of one hundred miles. He also told of how the necessary funds were raised, not through taxes, but by the giving of dances, in order to raise money with which to erect the school buildings. However, according to Mr. Moore, the old order changed in 1881, until we have practically the same system as that existing today. In closing, Mr. Moore made the unusual statement which bears more significance than can be easily understood at once, and that is, "That I am free to say I have examined and observed the school systems throughout a considerable number of the eastern states, and I have found that no better system of education exists in any of them than in Arizona."

The governor's address was a finished article on American citizenship and the value of liberty, inasmuch as it permits of the shaping of intended destiny. The influence of literature was a point dwelt upon for a considerable portion of the address.

M. I. A. MEETING WILL BE ON TABERNACLE LAWN

A Feature of the Summer Season—Attracted Large Crowds Last Year.

The open-air meetings of the M. I. A., which attracted such a great number of young people from all denominations last summer, will again be observed the coming season, when it is anticipated that they again will be as popular. The features of these meetings are that they are held in the open air, which insures as much coolness as there is obtainable, and then, they are musical, which is a distinction not usually overlooked by young people. The first Sunday evening to be observed in this manner will be June 6. The motto of the evening will be "Smile!"

The program as arranged is as follows: Chorus, "If There's Sunshine in Your Heart"—Young ladies' chorus. Quartet, "Catch the Sunshine"—Alma young men. Lecture, "Cheerfulness"—Anders Mortensen. Vocal Solo—Miss Maggie Brundage. "Smile, Smile, Smile!"—The phonograph. Comic Recitation—Mabel Davis. Singing, "Now, Let Us Rejoice."

There are several important matters which have been postponed pending the arrival of Mr. Harris, and he will find his time pretty well staked out for him for several weeks ahead. DAILY FASHION TALKS
BY MAY MANTON
A FASHIONABLE WARM WEATHER COAT.

GIRLS' coats are unusually attractive and smart this season and this one, made of checked wool with trimming of braid makes a smart and useful wrap that will be available during the entire season. It is loose and can easily be slipped on and off. It gives the latest lines and is finished with the new pointed pocket laps and sleeve trimming. It can be made collarless, as illustrated, or with a rolled-over collar, as fitted. Later the model will be an excellent one for pongee, linen, pique and the like and among heavier materials are to be found serge, broadcloth and mixtures galore, a 16 to 18 inch checked material lined with some bright color makes a feature of the season. Braid and bands of material are equally desirable as trimming and for the unlined coats of summer scalloped edges are to have a great vogue. There are fronts and back only, but the fronts are lapped over with the backs for a portion of their length and held by buttons. The long regulation sleeves are plain, but by no means tight.

For a girl of ten years of age will be required 3 1/2 yards of material 27, 2 1/2 yards 44 or 1 1/2 yards 52 inches wide with 1/2 yards of banding.
